Honoring Families: Helping Children and Youth Succeed

Dear Participants,

On behalf of the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services, welcome to Tulsa's Southern Hills Marriott for the 12th Annual Children's Behavioral Health Conference. This year's theme is "Honoring Families: Helping Children and Youth Succeed."

Our goal is that all of Oklahoma's children and youth with emotional disturbance will have early and easy access to all the services and supports necessary to remain in their own homes, in their own communities, safely and successfully with hope for the future. We strive to provide effective and evidence based services within a framework that supports these core values: community-based, child-centered/family-focused, and culturally competent.

The conference will provide participants with the opportunity to choose from a variety of concurrent workshops, speakers and topics.

Thank you all for coming to the conference and for working together to help Oklahoma's children, youth and their families succeed!

Sincerely,

Welcome to the 2005 Children's Behavioral Health Conference

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Welcome to the conference! We hope that the educational opportunities planned this year will meet your expectations and help you personally and professionally.

Out of courtesy for participants and speakers, please turn all pagers and telephones to silent mode. Please leave the workshop for cell phone conversations.

Be sure and go by to visit our many exhibitors. There is a list of exhibitors in your conference packet.

Lunch on Friday will be provided for all pre-registered participants. A restaurant list is provided on the reverse side of these announcements.

Don't forget to sign in at the registration desk each morning. This enables us to get a count for each day and to know who is present. Please also sign in at each workshop.

There will be certificates available for all participants. Do not forget to pick up your certificates at the end of the conference since certificates will NOT be mailed. If you come in late or leave early, your actual hours of attendance will be reflected on your certificate. Each individual will be responsible for picking up his or her own certificate.

Special forms for social workers and licensed professional counselors will be attached to your certificates. The general certificate will suffice for other credits.

Invoices or receipts will be attached to your certificates. Don't forget to take the invoices back to your agency accounting offices to be paid.

If you have questions, please ask anyone with a red ribbon. Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services staff and volunteers will be wearing the red ribbons. Each workshop will have staff to assist speakers and participants.

Thank you for being here, and we hope you have a great time at the conference!

*All presenters declare that neither them nor any immediate family member of their family has a financial arrangement or affiliation with any corporate organization offering financial support or grant monies for this continuing medical education program. Also, they agree no aspect of their current personal or professional circumstances places them in the position of having a conflict of interest with any interest of the Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services relating to their presentation.

AGENDA

Wednesday, April 27, 2005
Pre-Conference Institute

8:00 – 8:30     Registration

8:30 – 4:30     Salons A & B

Plenary. Working with Children in the Context of Families. Insoo Kim Berg. This presentation will describe a step-by-step approach to negotiate the desired outcome right from the beginning. The model presented will be based on Solution-Focused Brief Therapy approach developed by de Shazer, Berg, and their colleagues. Strategies and skills needed to immediately tap into the client's abilities, resources and hidden strengths will be described in detail. Lecture, skill building exercises and useful questions that generate solutions will be used to practice useful tools that you can take back to the office and begin using immediately.

8:30 – 4:30*     Sequoia

Plenary. Confluence of PBIS and Wraparound from the School's Perspective: What Do Schools Need to be involved with both Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) and Wraparound?

John VanDenBerg, Ph.D. and Sandy Keenan. This workshop will be led by John VanDenBerg, Ph.D., national expert on wraparound, and Sandy Keenan, Senior Advisor for the Technical Assistance Partnership for Child and Family Mental Health, a national expert on Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports. It is a day-long interactive forum designed for educators who are committed to the Values and Principles of Systems of Care and yet have to maintain a high quality of educational services. Educators will receive practical tips on addressing not only educational needs of children with complex needs, but also in dealing more effectively with children who have needs that go beyond the school environment.

8:30 – 4:30*     Redbud

Plenary. DC:0-3 Training. Donna Weston, Ph.D. In this lively and interactive session, participants will learn through case examples, lecture, videotape and discussion. This workshop addresses how and why DC:03 was developed; underlying philosophy and approach; principles of effective mental health and developmental assessment of infants and toddlers; the five axes and the major diagnostic categories in DC: 0-3; and use of decision trees and crosswalks to DSM-IV-TR or ICD 9/10. Suggestions for continuing the learning process, and follow up to this session will be discussed

8:30 – 10:00* Sequoia
Plenary Session. Moving a Community from Collaboration to Integration: Ensuring Better Outcome and Use of Taxpayer Funding.
John VanDen-Berg, Ph.D., and Jane Adams, Ph.D. Children and youth with complex needs across systems often have multiple and competing plans developed by well meaning professionals who collaborate with each other but whom, at the end of the day, go back to their agencies and schools and make single system decisions. This practice results in a huge waste of taxpayer funding and in poor outcomes for families. This workshop examines the leadership needed to have a truly integrated services process and techniques of ensuring a permanent change in how services are approached.

1A.* Sycamore
Building a Family-Driven System of Care. Jane Adams, Ph.D. Jane has pioneered the very successful family involvement in Kansas, and is a member of the President's New Freedom Commission. She will share the model used by Keys For Networking in Kansas to nurture family involvement from the first phone call a family makes for help, all the way to the family's involvement in state-level policy making.

1B.* Silver Oak A
Trauma-focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy with Children Exposed to Family Violence and Their Nonoffending Caregivers.
Felicia Neubauer, Ph.D. This workshop is based on a trauma-focused cognitive behavioral approach to therapy with children who have witnessed or have been exposed to family violence. The Specific techniques for children, adolescents, and nonoffending parents/caregivers will be described, including use of role plays for hands-on experience. There will be a brief description of the research describing the effectiveness of this treatment approach.

1C.*

The S.E.L.F. Model of Trauma Treatment: Creating Sanctuary for Traumatized Children and Adolescents in Residential Treatment. Sandra Bloom, M.D. The Sanctuary Model® represents a trauma-informed method for creating or changing an organizational culture in order to more effectively provide a cohesive context within which healing from psychological and social traumatic experience can be addressed. In this workshop we will focus on Creating Sanctuary in residential treatment programs for children and adolescents with emotional and behavioral problems and histories of maltreatment and exposure to family or community violence utilizing a trauma recovery treatment framework called S.E.L.F.

Dogwood

Community Development: From Collaboration to Integration. Jim Rast, Ph.D. and John VanDenBerg, Ph.D. Systems of Care are how communities come together to support the children and families in the community. This presentation will review the literature and personal experience that describes the important aspects of system development needed to support high fidelity wraparound and good outcomes for children and families. The presentation will unveil a community assessment tool and process and strategies to address common developmental challenges.

Implementing Evidence-Based Practice in Public Sector Service Settings. Mark Chaffin, Ph.D. This 3-hour workshop is intended for policy makers, administrators, clinical supervisors, program directors and others interested in the transportability and implementation of evidence-based treatments and protocols within large public agency service programs. The presentation will review the development and practice culture of evidence-based treatments, then discuss aspects of model implementation including model selection, training and technical assistance, organizational culture and climate factors, individual provider factors, larger service system factors, financial factors and how to promote a change in practice culture from traditional to evidence-based frameworks.

3B. Maple
Deafness and the Family: Issues and Applications Relevant to the Impact of Deafness and Hearing Loss on Families in Therapy. Patrick Hinson, MS, Ed.S., LMFT. This presentation will begin by addressing the different aspects of deafness and hearing loss in families. It will address the perceptions of deafness and hearing loss from both sides of the condition and will cover appropriate use of interpreters in family therapy and appropriate techniques for therapists to develop therapeutic alliances with the whole family system. Special emphasis will be placed on the types of disorders often found in families with one or more deaf members who do develop problems relevant for entering therapy, from out-patient family therapy issues to formal psychiatric disorders. We will work to develop a knowledge base for beginning work with families with one or more deaf members entering treatment, whether the deaf family member is the identified patient or a member of the supporting family. Using a Structural Family Therapy framework, the overarching goal will be to facilitate a sense of comfort and competence in the therapeutic role of exploring and addressing the identified problems that such unique families bring to therapy from a strength-based perspective.

FAMILY TRACK WORKSHOP

Thursday, April 28, 2005

1:00-2:30 Parent and Youth Communication. This workshop, lead by Jacquie Pereira, Youth Coordinator and Susan Boehrer, Oklahoma Federation of Families, will be hands on communication activities for parents and youth. We will hear from a panel of youth and their parents on real life communication problems and solutions. We will have fun finding out what we have in common and learning to respect how we are different. You will leave this workshop with a better understanding of how to bridge the communication gap between youth and parents.

2:45-4:45 Crisis Management at Home. Carl Haws, SOC Trainer and Susan Boehrer, Oklahoma Federation of Families, will teach families how to manage crisis within the home. Learn how to make and follow a crisis plan. Understand how to prevent crisis if possible, manage crisis if necessary, and how to let good crisis management make your family stronger and more durable. You will leave this workshop with knowledge that will help your family manage the bumps that youth and families experience with planning and control.

Friday, April 29, 2005

10:00-11:30 Telling Your Story. Traci Castles, Oklahoma Family Network, will train families to tell their story in a meaningful and organized manner that promotes awareness and sensitivity. This curriculum adapted from “Telling Your Story” by Jan Moss, will help families develop their personal experience story in a way that reveals important issues and promotes feedback and support from their audience. This two-part workshop will promote healing and help families move forward as they learn how to network among themselves, support each other, and see the value of their own personal stories.
